

General course information

Times of lectures and exercises:

Tuesdays 10-12, Wednesdays 14-16, Thursdays 16-18 all in VE22. Tirsdager klokka 10-12, Onsdager klokka 14-16, Torsdager klokka 16-18 (VE22).

NTNU Course page:

<https://www.ntnu.no/studier/emner/ST2304#tab=omEmnet>

Teachers and contact details:

Course coordinator - Bob O'Hara (bob.ohara@ntnu.no)

Course lecturers - Bob O'Hara and Emily Simmonds (emily.g.simmonds@ntnu.no)

Format of lectures:

Each week will consist of lectures and interactive exercises.

Overall aim of the course:

This course will help you be able to use new statistical methods to address biological questions. (and generally, do cool things with biological data).

Blackboard pages:

https://ntnu.blackboard.com/webapps/blackboard/execute/modulepage/view?course_id=13001_1&cmp_tab_id=72248_1&editMode=true&mode=cpview

Course modules - Contains an overview of the course structure

Glossary - This will be updated each week with new terminology based on student feedback

R resources - Extra resources to help with learning R. This will be updated regularly throughout the semester if new resources are found

Reading list/extra resources - Information on the key text and supporting material for the course. Further information relevant to parts of the course will be added as we reach them

Exam - Information about exam requirements and timings

FAQ - Frequently asked questions. This will be updated through the semester based on student questions